WORKSHOP INVITATION ANNOUNCEMENT

If you are a graduate or undergraduate student, working coder or programmer interested in mobile non-game applications, we invite you to Focus Group Workshop for non-trivial Mobile applications for Apple iOS platform. We expect you to share your bright ideas, propose innovative recommendations based on your experience, knowledge and creative thoughts, for which you will be reimbursed. There will be discussions and testing of presented mobile applications.

The only requirement is that you bring your own, or borrowed, iPhone, iPod Touch or iPad and submit device UDID in advance in order to get provisioned before Start times and ensure "dry run" testing.

Please email us by Monday, Jan 30, at mkt.bjyf@gmail.com with the day & time of the session to your best convenience (your first and second preference) to allow us form focus groups of 20 per session as seats are limited. We'll revert back to you with the place and time for the event. A short list of prior completed courses and apps written in your sign-up email will be appreciated.
