

BUSINESS ANALYST TRAINEE

NEVEXIS is a fast growing Bulgarian company specialized in providing IT services for the financial industry in Bulgaria and Europe. We excel in the areas of Core Banking integration, CRM, Business Intelligence and System Integration. Our clients include some of the leading banks in Germany and Southeastern Europe. NEVEXIS's business and strategic partnerships allow our employees to work on a wide range of projects, develop and strengthen their experience and skills, and achieve higher level of performance.

Due to expanding operations we are looking for a Business Analyst Trainee for our IT Services department.

As a Business Analyst Trainee, you will work closely with senior members of our company and our clients to implement innovative software solutions that solve complex problems. As a part of your daily work, you will participate in the design of new business processes, learn how to capture client requirements and communicate them with the development team, document and validate functionalities and gaps, prepare test cases and support the UAT. The position will provide you with an extensive amount of training, and the opportunity to develop your career later in the company.

The successful candidate should meet the following requirements:

- Bachelor's degree in Computer Science, Software Technologies, Economics or a student graduating 2014 or 2015;
- Excellent problem solving ability, attention to detail;
- Proactive and self-motivated with a positive attitude ;
- Ability to work with MS Office products such as Word, Excel, PowerPoint, Visio, etc.

Additional advantages would be:

- Experience in the financial services industry;
- Good command in German (as we have customers in Germany, ability to communicate with them in German is a big plus);

We offer:

- Great opportunity to start your career in the IT industry;
- Friendly work environment in a team of motivated and experienced professionals;
- Participation in complex international projects in large financial institutions;
- Opportunity to grow within the company;

To apply for the above position, please send your complete application along with information about when you will be able to start at hr@nevexis.com.