WORKSHOP: CLIMATE HERITAGE ADAPTATIONS

SEPTEMBER 4 -13, 2023

Hosted by TOBB UNIVERSITY OF ECONOMICS AND TECHNOLOGY, ANKARA- TÜRKİYE

CONTENT

Climate Heritage Adaptations is an international workshop in which master's students from each e-CREHA partner university will explore the relationships between climate change and cultural heritage and seek climate-resilient design solutions for cultural heritage. Students will learn about heritage vulnerability and mitigation/adaptation tools and will apply the acquired knowledge by developing strategies for climate change adaptation.¹

During the 10-day workshop, students from different disciplines (e.g., civil engineering, architecture and urban design, planning, tourism sciences, computer sciences, and social sciences) will work together in a studio-based learning environment.

This workshop will focus on cultural heritage sites (archeological, natural, built/urban landscape) located in the Cappadocia region, which are particularly vulnerable to climate change.² The workshop will include site visits, fieldwork, studio-based learning activities, expert, and student presentations. Students will also discover the sites included on the World Heritage List.

¹ Adaptation in human systems, the process of adjustment to actual or expected climate and its effects, in order to moderate harm or exploit beneficial opportunities. In natural systems, the process of adjustment to actual climate and its effects; human intervention may facilitate adjustment to expected climate. https://www.ipcc.ch/site/assets/uploads/2018/03/SREX-Annex_FINAL-1.pdf

² The IPCC report and other national and international scientific modeling studies demonstrate that Turkey in near future will get hotter, more arid and unstable in terms of precipitation patterns.
